

Terms and Conditions

General Conditions

These Terms and Conditions govern the use of the barpa website, accessible from www.barpa.eu. Please read our Terms and Conditions carefully. The use of our website assumes that you agree with them.

Privacy Policy / Data Protection

The processing of personal data sent to our website will be done in accordance with our Privacy Policy.

Website Content

The information contained in the website, including images, text files, videos, and all other information, as well as the organization and layout thereof, are protected by copyright under Portuguese and European Union laws. Both the website and part of it may not be copied, distributed, modified or posted on other sites without the prior written consent of barpa.

Although there is an effort on the part of barpa to ensure that the information present on the website is totally current and accurate, barpa is not responsible in any way if it is not strict.

Newsletter

The subscription of the newsletter can be made on barpa website by any user. The subscription will be based on the acceptance of barpa Privacy Policy. You can cancel the subscription at any time, in the option for the present effect in the newsletter received by the user.

Cookies

barpa website uses cookies, collecting the session and analytics (non-permanent). Session cookies are temporary and have the purpose of identifying navigation problems allowing a better experience when used. The purpose of analytic cookies is to allow barpa to analyze the behavior of those used in the navigation of the website, allowing the development of some functionalities and the detection of any flaws. Cookies are treated anonymously for statistical purposes, not processing users' personal data.

To manage your cookies you can use the options in your browser and configure them, being able to accept, decline or delete them.

Legal Updates

Barpa reserves the right to change its Privacy Policy without prior notice.

Contact

If you have any questions about these Terms and Conditions, you can send them to Rua Noé Pereira, 473, 4510-706 Gondomar or by e-mail to info@barpa.eu.

Last updated: 16/09/2019